MAPA · A TOOL FOR PARENTS OF MORE THAN ONE

Family temperament map

same house, same rules, different doorways.

If you have more than one child, you already know: the same words land in completely different ways. That doesn't mean one of them is "the difficult one". It means each child has their own doorway. The rule stays. The way in changes. This map helps you find each child's doorway, so you can stop giving everyone the same speech and expecting the same result.

Where this comes from: I learned it in product. What does this person want? What are the constraints? Then you design for who they are. It works at home too.

20 MINUTES · ONE RULE · ONE WEEK

Connection before correction
A child who feels seen can actually hear the correction. Connect first, correct second. Correct the action, never the child.

Curiosity over compliance
The goal isn't obedience. It's understanding what helps this child choose the right thing on their own. Ask before you assume.

Routine cards
Let the card on the wall do the reminding, so you don't have to say it five times. Pictures for little ones, words for bigger ones.

1 Pick one rule

Choose the rule that keeps blowing up at your house: bedtime, screens, getting out the door, homework. Just one. Then write the family value it protects: respect, kindness, honesty, faith, our language. The value is the part that never changes.

The rule:

The family value behind it:

2 Map each child

Same rule for everyone. Now fill in one row per child. Watch them for a few days before you decide. Curiosity first.

Examples, to get you started (types, not real kids):

| CHILD · AGE · WHAT LIGHTS THEM UP | WHAT HELPS THEM START | HOW CORRECTION LANDS BEST | WHAT THEY NEED AFTER A BIG FEELING | THEIR DOORWAY, IN ONE LINE |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| The deep feeler · loves creating | A reason and a real choice: "now, or in five minutes with a timer?" | "I'm correcting what you did, not you." | To feel heard before anything else | A reason and a choice |
| The fairness keeper | The why, said once | One reason, one sentence. The rule stays. | To know the rule is the same for everyone | Say it once. The card reminds. |
| The private processor · imaginative | A quiet cue, a fixed place, no audience | In private, never in front of siblings | A few minutes alone, and trust that they'll come back | Quiet cue, no audience, time |

3 Your part

Every family map has one more person on it: you. What do you tend to do when things blow up?

Mine: I jump to fixing. My practice: feel first, fix second.

My trap:

My practice:

4 Make a routine card

One card per rule. Hang it where the rule happens: by the door, the bathroom mirror, the bedroom.

The rule:

Steps (1, 2, 3):

Pictures or words?

Where it hangs:

5 Try it for one week

Keep the rule. Change only one thing per child: the reason, the timing or the audience. Then write down what happens.

| DAY | CHILD | WHAT I CHANGED | WHAT HAPPENED |
|---|---|---|---|
| | | | |
| | | | |

I don't change the rule. I change the doorway.

with love, Stef
